Recently Their Majesties the King and Queen visited units of the Royal Canadian Air Force bomber group overseas, and His Majesty presented awards to many Canadian airmen. Here he is shown presenting the Distinguished Flying Cross to P.O. D. J. A. Buchanan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Buchanan, 10212 127 street. P.O. Buchanan was awarded the DFC last year, and the citation of the award reads: "Throughout his operational tour his ability and determination have been of a very high order. His efficiency as an air bomber has been a great asset to the excellent results obtained by his crew. He displayed consistent courage, skill and resource throughout his missions. Recently he was in Edmonton on leave, and is not attached to a RCAP bomber group in Britain."

Blueprint for World Peace, Backed by Powerful Forces, Is Drafted by "Big Four"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(AP)—A tentative blueprint for a world peace enforcing agency, backed by powerful land and sea forces and by special aerial armadas ready to slash at any aggressor, was made public yesterday by the big four of the United Nations.

Allies' Security Plan in Brief

By The Associated Press
Here is brief in the British-Russian-American-Chinese proposal for a permanent "United Nations" to enforce the peace:

1. An 11-member security council, with permanent seats for the big four and "in due course" for France. The council would decide when peace is menaced and what force to use against aggressors. Its voting procedure is undecided.
2. A "general assembly" of all peace-loving nations with one vote each, primarily to advise the council.
3. An "economic and social council" with 18-non-permanent members to make and carry out recommendations for human welfare.
4. In international court.
5. A permanent secretariat-general.
6. A "military staff committee" composed of the chiefs of staff of permanent members to carry out strategic decisions on force used to keep peace.
7. Air force contingents "immediately available" for use in any means of blocking aggression fall and other quotas of force on "call."

Police Recapture German Prisoner

A German prisoner-of-war, Rudolph Lennner, who escaped from House last Wednesday, is back in custody. It was reported by RCMP officials here Tuesday.

Lennner, who made his escape by taking the identification of a Canadian prisoner named Herchell Stark, voluntarily surrendered to the RCMP at Rocky Mountain House Saturday night.

Brought to Edmonton he has been returned to military authorities.

Reinforcements "Satisfactory" Says Coldwell

By S. T. RICHARDSON
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—M. J. Coldwell, national leader of the CCF, quoted Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, a Canadian Corps commander in the European theatre, as saying that Canadian Army reinforcements were "quite satisfactory" when he was asked, at a press conference today, about the overseas reinforcement situation.

Mr. Coldwell said the charges made by Major Conny Smythe, re-elected Toronto officer, who recently said poorly-trained army units in France, had attracted little attention in the army overseas.

The CCF leader returned last night from a month's visit to Britain. He said that the reinforcements arriving by British Air Transport Command planes.

"I have no opinion myself on this matter," said Mr. Coldwell, when reporters mentioned the Smythe allegations. "All I can give you is what I was told, and Gen. Simonds."

In Bochem Attack

LONDON, Oct. 10.—(CP)—More than 200 Canadian heavy bombers dropped tons of explosives on the German industrial city of Bochum last night and returning crews seemed to be in the air.

Three Canadian bombers are missing from the joint RAF-RCAP operation. The Cdn. bomber force, under the command of Wing Commander DFC, of Edmonton and Wainwright, left last night and returned today.

According to the official who would not be quoted by name, "immediately" was not defined by the delegates who wrote the plan. While a limited States requirement for congressional approval each time force is used would be necessary, he said this is strictly a domestic United States issue.

Ministry Reveals:

Bombing Effectiveness

Now Vastly Increased

By ROBERT L. FREY
LONDON, Oct. 10.—(BUP)—The air ministry made an announcement today that RAF Bomber Command planes based in England dropped 682,000 tons of bombs on enemy targets in Germany last night, more than 500,000 incendiaries have been dropped on a single objective.

The ministry increased effectiveness of Allied bomber forces is illustrated by the fact that it took the RAF three and a half years to plan the first 100,000 tons of bombs in Germany, while the last 24 hours of the bombing of the beginning of the war up to October 1.

Of this total, 200,000 tons fell on Germany proper.

Close on Baltic Port of Memel

By HENRY SHAPIRO
MOSCOW, Oct. 10.—(BUP)—

Soviet armored forces closed in on the Baltic port of Memel today and probably already were storming its suburbs, virtually completing the entrapment of 100,000 or more Germans.

Vicious Dogs Turned on Victims Women Warders of German S.S. Prove as Bestial as Their Men

By MARGARET ECKER
PARIS, Oct. 10. (CP)—

German women can be as bestial as their men. Here in Paris is a dark young woman of Corsica with bruises still on her body and her mind who is eloquent witness of that.

Graziella Canzani was beaten by Nazi fists until she nearly died. In a concentration camp in Germany this young mother of two small children saw women of the S.S. beat her comrades, other French women prisoners, until they died. She saw ferocious dogs turned on these martyrs to tear them to pieces.

With the aid of an interpreter, the 28-year-old inmate described months of terror that still haunt her waking and sleeping hours.

BEATEN WITH FISTS
For eight hours the Germans beat her with their bare fists, on her head, on her nude body. When she fainted from exhaustion they would allow her to rest and when she revived beat her again.

This was her treatment for three months and still she had not seen the information they sought. Eventually she was sent to a concentration camp in Germany so ill she could scarcely stand.

More than 30,000 other women were in that barracks held, 10,000 French, the rest Polish, Russian, Czech-Slovakian. Each barracks slept 1,000 women, with no hygiene measures, no washing facilities.

WOMEN WARDERS

Their warders were women. Young fanatics of the S.S. "They were crueler than any man," said Graziella. "They beat us as regularly for the pleasure of it."

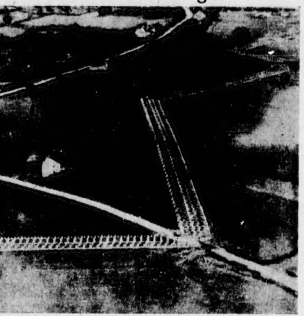

The internment camp was living death. The women were covered with lice, were ill. When women murmured or refused to go on working, vicious dogs were turned on them.

"I have seen women torn to pieces and others die from their bites," said Graziella. "I have seen no dearest friends die in death by the women warders because they were too ill to work. I have seen others, electrocuted on the electric wires that fenced in the camp when they tried to escape."

Plan Conference

REGINA, Oct. 10. (CP)—Plans for the first constitutional conference of the provincial federation of the Canadian Congress of Labor were discussed at a meeting during the week-end. The meeting will be attended by delegates of 70 local unions and affiliated unions.

Allies Have Part of Siegfried Line

"Dragon's teeth" of the Siegfried line zigzag across the German countryside in territory now held by the Allied forces. Allied troops now call it the "Siegfried line."

Big Victory—But in 1592

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 10. (AP)—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, United States Pacific fleet commander, for a few minutes yesterday had a roomful of war correspondents before they were getting one of the war's most sensational stories—a smashing blow against the Japanese fleet off Korea.

At the end of an hour-long conference, he said: "You might be interested in this communiqué."

Then with a serious face, he read how "powerful Allied naval forces" had attacked a portion of the Japanese fleet off Korea, inflicting heavy damages in that and a subsequent engagement.

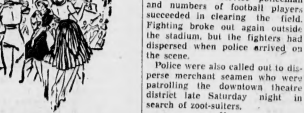

The admiral's face was so serious and the text so plausible that most correspondents believed he was referring to a certain action. With a little grin, the admiral noted that this communiqué, incidentally, he said, "is dated late June, 1592."

"Secret Weapon"

OUTSIDE AACHEN, Oct. 10. (CP)—American front-line engineers yesterday "fired" into Aachen their own secret weapon—an explosive-filled street-car.

It blew up from its ton of captured German explosives to the cheers of the front-line invaders. The street car was launched by a bulldozer which gave it a shove to send it rumbly down into Aachen from a hill two miles to the east.

The sun's surface area is 12,000 times that of the earth.

The melee spread across the field but an RCAF service policeman and a number of football players succeeded in clearing the field. Fighting broke out again outside the stadium, but the fighters had dispersed when police arrived on the scene.

Police were also called out to disperse a merchant seamen who were patrolling the downtown theatre district late Saturday night in quest of 200-actresses.

Army and Navy Veterans Elect New Executive

CALGARY, Oct. 10. (CP)—The Canadian rehabilitation program has every possibility of success if the public and industry show the same cooperation and enthusiasm toward it as they have shown in the prosecution of the war.

Harvey Lynn, Edmonton, was elected first vice-president and E. Wilson, Calgary, secretary-treasurer. Frank Miles, Lethbridge, is immediate past president.

The word marine comes from an old French word "marin" meaning sea soldier.

Full Measure Of Prosperity Seen in West

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 10.—With an excellent crop of all grains on the prairies; with a first-class fruit crop harvested in the vast fruit districts of British Columbia; with mining, forestry, and with industry and business in general reflecting these conditions, western Canada is facing the future with a typical sound optimism and vision.

W. M. Neal, CBE, vice-president, Canadian Pacific Railway, said here Sunday on his return from an inspection of the company's properties from the Great Lakes to the Pacific Ocean.

While still meeting their war problems on an all-out basis, western Canadians, as well as eastern Canadians, Mr. Neal said, are looking forward to the collapse of Germany and the beginning of the destruction of Japan as a time at which to take stock and to plan for the future of the Dominion in the trading spheres of the post-war world.

SOUND PROSPERITY

"I have no doubt whatever," he said, "that Canada, with all her natural resources, coupled with her enthusiasm and diligence of her people, and intelligent planning will attain and keep a wide and sound measure of prosperity. I am the more convinced of this fact after meeting and talking with western Canadians during this trip."

Western Canadian plans will in all probability include a program of sound immigration of suitable people with a view of bringing into production vast areas of land uninhabited, but which are capable of producing equally vast wealth.

The resultant increase in the volume of farm and domestic trade, Mr. Neal said, will be a big assist in raising the country's post-war prosperity level.

Canadian Pacific transportation facilities in the west, Mr. Neal said, bearing their full share in carrying the nation's war loads and throughout the entire country were being kept at high level of efficiency.

PROBLEMS STUDIED

The Canadian Pacific, he said, has already made a detailed study of the change-over from a war to a peacetime footing, and is being aided by the recent assignment of H. J. Humphrey, formerly vice-president of eastern lines, to special duties, as assuming that the Canadian Pacific will continue to be one of the post-war years to give the country all that is best in national, and world-wide transportation.

In fact, the CPR isn't waiting for the ringing of the peace bells to alter in that post-war period, Mr. Neal said, for mechanical, traffic, and operating officers are engaged in constant study to refine existing rolling stock and service as well as in drafting plans for radical changes in equipment which cannot be built until wars end.

This held for passenger and freight cars, as well as locomotives, the vice-president emphasized, and said one of the "Lake" cars recently turned out at Angus shops was case in point. Bleached mahogany was used instead of the traditional dark finish and such other improvements as outlets for electric razors and toothbrushes to sum the porter, contributed to a car in the modern manner.

CONSIDER COMFORTS

It has been set down in the plans for post-war equipment that there should be special consideration for the comfort of women and children and succeeding cars in this program would look after this as a matter of course.

The last freight equipment order took this same line. Mr. Neal pointed out, with 750 cars to be added to the CPR's fleet, the new steel-shelved box cars, from contracts let as well as 200 overhead refrigerator cars, and 200 drop-end gondola cars. "These 'freeters' will be of the type pioneered on the North American continent by the CPR eight years ago, and since introduced by other lines, are in addition to regular equipment order last January for 2,140 freight cars and 50 locomotives.

On the side, the CPR has two steam locomotives of an entirely new class and 10 modern diesel electric switchers in an order for $2 million to be delivered this year. The two new steam locomotives were built at Angus.

"Button Girl"

All decked out in the multi-million dollar building program here since 1931 and from there full particulars can be secured to guide outside builders in the volume of farm and domestic trade, Mr. Neal said, will be a big assist in raising the country's post-war prosperity level.

shops in the first building program there since 1931 and from there full particulars can be secured to guide outside builders in the volume of farm and domestic trade, Mr. Neal said, will be a big assist in raising the country's post-war prosperity level.

Building of these two engines at Angus typified the manner in which the whole broad question of post-war planning had been fitted in with the urgent demand of war on Canada's pioneer transcontinental railroad, Mr. Neal said.

Arrived in Montreal yesterday from an east coast Canadian port and New York City, about 80 women and 30 children detained at Montreal while the others continued to Toronto, Ottawa and Western Canada centres.

Brides Arrive

MONTREAL, Oct. 10. (CP)—A large party of British war brides arrived in Montreal yesterday from an east coast Canadian port and New York City, about 80 women and 30 children detained at Montreal while the others continued to Toronto, Ottawa and Western Canada centres.

NOTED IN PROGRAMS

This has been most noticeable in the heavy program at Angus and at Ogden shops, Calgary, which Mr. Neal said on this trip when Vice-President Wake-Walker, KBE, OBE, third lord of the admiralty, was there.

Mr. Neal's inspection took him into Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Vancouver, Victoria, Nelson, Lethbridge, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Port William. He was accompanied throughout by H. M. Long, director of defence communications for Canada and west of the Great Lakes by W. A. Maher, vice-president of western lines, and in the east by E. D. Cotterell, vice-president eastern lines.

By ALAN RANDAL
WITH THE CANADIAN ARMY
IN HOLLAND, Oct. 10. (CP)—In the dark terror that was the River Rhine on the September night when Britain's 1st Airborne Division landed, after nine days and nights of fighting, a field company of Canadian Army engineers earned a place in fame beside these heroes of Arnhem.

The Canadians, under Maj. Michael Tucker of an engineer regiment, cleared nearly 90 per cent of all the men brought out under a constant hail of enemy fire and in the most horrible weather.

"The work of all personnel employed in this operation was of a very high standard," says the official report on the Canadian mission.

Young Liberals Back Principle of Co-Op. Enterprise

REGINA, Oct. 10. (CP)—A resolution endorsing the principle of co-operative enterprises but stressing that such enterprises should not be controlled or directed by the government, was unanimously adopted by the executive council of the Young Liberal Federation of Saskatchewan here during the week-end.

The council went on record as favoring that co-operatives do business in open competition with free enterprise, subject to the same laws, taxes and responsibility to the public.

A Canadian trade policy that would bring into effect complete free trade as quickly as possible after the war was asked in a second resolution.

Maj. Tucker had special praise for Cpl. George Robinson who led a section in constructing the bridge necessary for the operation, was responsible for the delivery of many storm boats to the launching sites and after the war was awarded the Victoria Cross.

Canada's Cash Registers

The address to the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce by Premier Stuart Garson of Manitoba is worth the careful study of every Canadian. It follows the story of this country's breakdown in economic structure been as clearly told.

For racial and other reasons, as Premier Garson pointed out, Canada was divided, 77 years ago, into provinces with their own governments whose powers were originally distinguished from those of the federal government. The latter was given the right to levy both direct and indirect taxation. The former were restricted to direct taxation alone.

There is no escape for the individual from direct taxation. Indirect taxes can be passed along to the consumer. But this system may have been workable at a time when provincial expenses were light. But many items of provincial responsibility have increased in cost. Direct taxation has become more expensive. Moreover, all the social services borne by provincial governments have appeared since 1867.

The result of this increased cost of government has proved to be particularly disastrous to the smaller provinces. They must carry their share of the weight of higher direct taxation and at the same time they have been forced to contribute to a tax which is sloughed off on their shoulders. Imports like the sales tax, for instance, boil out of the pot as increased cost of living.

Since Canada is an exporting country, her people sell in world markets and buy in Canadian markets. That is to say, their purchasing power is international. Where a heavy proportion of their Canadian manufacturing, Canadian banking and Canadian insurance is concerned, they are real and Toronto, as The Edmonton Bulletin has pointed out before, are the cash registers of Canada. The rest of the provinces of the world where the rich levy commercial tribute upon the other seven provinces and where they are also the cash registers of the world, are the cash registers of the world where the rich levy commercial tribute upon the other seven provinces and where they are also the cash registers of the world.

The situation, then, is briefly this: the poor everywhere in the world are the rich can only protect their wealth while they gather around the national cash registers in Toronto and Montreal. It is in this fact that renders so obvious the charge of Premier Drew of Ontario that his province contributes impossibly much to the national cash registers. Whatever Ontario contributes to family allowances that contribution is still made with the money of the poor in the provinces which pay tribute to the financial and commercial centers of Canada.

Premier Garson has pointed out when he says the taxation relation between the provincial and federal governments must be adjusted and the entire economic picture rearranged.

Canada has outgrown her constitution. It has become, in many respects, a document condemning the country to half the million Canadians to perpetual debt.

More "Building Their Own"

During the first nine months of this year, 876 houses were built in Edmonton, taken out at the city hall. This compares with 860 issued during the corresponding months of last year. But last year's figure included 250 houses built by the City of War-time Housing. The showing thus is that about 60 per cent more houses and commercial buildings have been built this year by private parties. More people are "building their own."

But it is a healthy sign of community conditions and of general faith in the position of the city that hundreds of citizens are thus building homes for themselves, and that the number doing so is very much larger than a year ago. The lower mortgage rates and the lower income and taxpayer. A large increase in home-owners is therefore particularly desirable at a time when the population of the city is growing rapidly.

During September 167 permits were issued, along with 72 permits for alterations and repairs. This maintained interest toward the close of the building season is no doubt largely accounted for by the fact that the Dominion House is still in operation and its advantages are becoming understood.

The provision made by the Act for financing the building of a house at reasonable interest charges and on long terms of repayment is evidently the reason why results it was intended to produce and will undoubtedly produce all across the Dominion.

The New Japan in China

It is had news that the Japanese have captured Foochow. That was the last important Chinese-held port on the east coast—the coast toward which Admiral Nimitz is aiming his fleet through the islands of the mid-Pacific. Its capture means that when Allied sea forces have been driven through the straits and then to the mainland anywhere north of Hong Kong.

This Japanese-held seaboard is the main arm of the Japanese fleet's intent to shatter the coastal provinces of China from Chungking territory, perhaps in a matter of a few weeks. The war in the Pacific has force that is driving down along the north and south railway line 400 miles in land, and which has penetrated even beyond the latitude of Foochow.

Japanese troops have already held an area in China which is two or three times as large as Japan itself, and far more successful. If they succeed in encircling and occupying the additional territory beyond the prongs of this pincer, their holdings will be four times as large as the homeland.

It is not in the South Pacific islands, it may not be in Japan, that the finally decisive battle of the war will have to be fought. The Japanese are engaged in consolidating their grip on Chinese territory of immense military and economic value. How to get them out of a question, which immediately arises when some one predicts that the war in that theatre will be wound up quickly once Hitlerian has been disposed of.

A correspondent cables that "Those who think the war in Europe is finished except for mopping up operations" ought to be with the Allied troops who have inched across the German border. The fact is that people who entertain that optimistic notion do not bother to think. They just wash.

Front line dispatches say the Nazi forces are digging in and bringing up supplies with the evident intent of spending the winter between the Siegfried line and the Rhine. Their hibernating plans may be of some use to readers of the Bulletin, but will remember that the winter months are due in that area and may bog down operations for the winter months. Time in that theatre is running against the Allies and in favor of the enemy.

Johnson's Seven Points Worth Consideration Is View

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Senator Johnson's seven-point plan, as I recall, an isolationist. But his seven points for a defeated Germany demand consideration on their own merits.

He suggests in point one, that the German borders remain as of 1912. With the exception of East Prussia which he would like to see "disposed of."

The second point is that the German people should be allowed to live in their native land and not be divided by the Junker estates among the land-hungry East Prussian peasants.

Point three is that Germany should be allowed to remain a sovereign state, as an autonomous state in the Soviet Union, and having their home without themselves go to Poland. I think I know.

Senator Johnson's point 2 demands the trial of German war criminals but wants to limit the number to 30,000. I don't know what the Germans are doing about this. We ought to make it clear that we don't intend to extradite.

Point four is that Germany should be allowed to remain a sovereign state, as an autonomous state in the Soviet Union, and having their home without themselves go to Poland. I think I know.

PROGRESS PRAISED

Publication of the Dumbarton Oaks statement in the Soviet press was hailed as a sign of progress in the negotiations.

The editorials insisted strongly on establishing a rule of unanimity on the permanent council, expressing the view that derogation of this principle would be incompatible with the effective and smooth functioning organization.

Baseball Champs

JOHN GALVIN, who completed six out of 20 forward passes for the Alaskan Clippers in the game against the Montana School of Mines, tossed the pigskin onto Clarke Stadium on Sunday afternoon with just about the same ease as he did a baseball for the Yanks at Co-reption Park last summer.

With a little more concentration on the receiving end, John would have completed at least three or four more. In addition he made several nice ground gains—twice a fake pass, one good for 15 yards. His best run put the Clippers' most dangerous scoring threat into high gear in the fourth quarter. It was a 28-yard effort and a beauty.

Wally Hood, Stennett, Bud Black, Bill Gann and Wayne Buck were the most effective line men for the Navy men. The team as a whole though, did not appear to be an strong, or as well drilled as the Fort Richardson eleven, here the previous week.

The two clubs had an even break in the matter of penalties, each losing a total of six yards. The Clippers refused to take one imposed on them, while the Navy men used a grid strategy which worked out well.

Pitchers Fan Total of 92 For New Mark

By ORLO ROBERTSON
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Backing up a three-hit pitching job with one quick offensive thrust, St. Louis Cardinals' pitcher, Max Lanier, won his second world series in three years with a 3-1 decision over the American League champions in the 11th baseball classic and first in which both St. Louis teams participated.

Max Lanier, veteran southpaw, and Teddy Wilks, rookie-right-hander, combined to put a fitting climax to a series dominated by pitching. With the two Cardinal hurlers striking out nine Browns and the American League pitchers' fanning five, the momentum hung up a series record for strikeouts.

THE top-coat weather (the temperature was in the neighborhood of 60 degrees) was pleasing to the smallest crowd of the series, 3,000, who came to the game. So were the Cardinal bats in the fourth.

Trailing 1-0, the result of Ted Laake 4-2 first-inning tie and center fielder, who was hit by a pitch, the Cardinals struck first in the second. Vern Stephens made a great stop of Whitey Kurowski's hot grounder, but pulled Don Gutierrez off second base for an error.

That was it. Potter and brought Bud Mueller to the scene. He forced Danny Litchner to end the game with a single. In the fifth, and sixth innings, the Cardinals won the game.

Sailors Count in Third Quarter Alaskan Clippers Lose 6-0

To Montana School of Mines

A TOUCHDOWN forward pass fired by Wally Hood to Stennett, right end, late in the third quarter, gave Montana School of Mines Navy squad a 6-0 victory over the Alaskan Clippers, Edmonton U.S. Air Base eleven, at Clarke Stadium on Sunday afternoon. The play in perfect Indian Summer weather, the game attracted a crowd of approximately 5,000.

After being held on even terms both in the first and second quarters, the Montana team dominated the third, manning up five first downs to one for the Clippers. The touchdown came after the Sailors had driven from their own 30-yard line.

Hood started the Montana men on their victory march, when he received a 20-yard pass from Stennett on his own 20-yard strip, and carried the ball back 25 yards before being stopped.

Hood was downed by "Mac" McLean advancing five yards and another player moved for 10 yards. The steady halfback for the Clippers had reached the 25-yard line for a gain of 25 yards and had faked to lead for another 10.

Wally Hood then eliminated the danger with his pass to Stennett for the touchdown. It was the third completed pass in the same number of plays. There was no convert.

CLIPPERS' THREATEN . . . The Clippers made their biggest bid for a major score in the fourth quarter, but an intercepted pass and a 20-yard punt by the Clippers' 17-yard strip ruined their chances.

They started well back in their own territory. Coach McLean, through centre for three yards and Galvin passed right into Burns' hands but the receiver dropped the ball. Galvin then went around his own 20-yard line and was tackled by McLean's just when he appeared headed for a touchdown.

Galvin's loss to "Snowball" Snow was good for eight and he followed with another completed forward to Wally Bregoli who ran for 11 yards. The next play Galvin without interference was unable to make any gain. And the next play the Sailors broke through and chased him around the field, but he eventually got away to Mort Goodstein but it was only good for one yard.

LPP to Contest Alberta Seats In Coming Vote

Advocating a coalition of all democratic forces in Canada as the only road to a new post-war progress in Canada, and "realizing that a coalition can become effective only in proportion to the strength of its proponents," the Labor-Progressive party in Alberta will participate fully in the next Dominion election, as part of the process of working for progressive unity and electoral reforms, with candidates to be nominated in every possible Dominion constituency in Alberta, James A. MacPherson, Alberta LPP leader, stated in the main report given at the conference of all provincial committees and district leaders held in Edmonton over the weekend.

"In the hour of decisive battles of the United Nations against the crumbling Nazi military power, with the defeat of the powerful fascist militarism of Japan still to be faced," Mr. MacPherson said, "a deliberate and dangerous conspiracy of reaction is afoot in Canada to nullify the progressive forces on the basis of such false issues as 'socialism now' in an attempt to prevent Canadians from winning sweeping post-war progressive reforms."

CLEAR-CUT ISSUES

The kind of government, and national policies required, and the issues we face, are quite clear-cut and definite. It is precisely because all actions of democratic opinion are coming more and more to a common understanding that reactionary circles are so desperately seeking to distort the picture by advancing false issues, hoping thereby to conceal from the people the real nature of their problems, in an attempt to thwart a post-war program of sweeping reform in the interests of the nation.

"The 'simple clear-cut issues' advanced were: The task of maintaining, as a minimum goal, the high level of economic activity and purchasing power of the people attained during the war; policies insuring national health and social security; greatly improved labor legislation; effective measures to attain wide markets for Canada's farmers, with a floor to maintain farm prices in stable relationship to the prices of goods farmers require; the development of labor partnership in the nation's affairs; full opportunity for our young men and women including full and generous re-education in civil life of the armed forces, with generous pensions and allowances for those suffering impairment, and for dependents of those fallen on the field of battle.

"He maintained that there are two camps of public opinion, the first camp that of 'progressive reform, which includes progressive Liberals, Social Credit, CCF and LPP parties' with the second camp threatening to block post-war progress and reform including Drew, Bracken, and Dupuis.

Sharply distinguishing between Premier James Manning's government, representing "liberal monetary reform," and the national Social Credit movement, under the leadership of Hon. Solon Low, supported by the Social Credit Board, Mr. MacPherson charged the national Social Credit movement "is a breeding ground of reactionary propaganda."

"In our opinion the political current in Alberta coinciding with the Drew-Bracken-Dupuis anti-unity, anti-labor, deliberate attempt to block popular post-war reform is that represented by the national Social Credit leader, Mr. Low. Flanked by his lieutenants Hyinka, James Knill, and Gregoire, Solon Low sounds the tocsin for an anti-socialist crusade in Canada which directly facilitates the plans of the Tories.

A LOSING BATTLE
"Mr. Low's policies are those behind which Hitler rose to power—war on socialism, and it is precisely the war which Mr. Low declares he is interested in waging that is today bringing Hitler and his nation to disaster. His viewpoint, in our case very naïve, is certainly not in accord with the spirit of the United Nations' policy, strategy or tactics.

"As a result of the CCF lack of willingness to unite on broad issues for progress, Drew dominates the Ontario house with a minority of members, which situation of Tory minority domination could well be duplicated in our next federal house, if unity is not fought for, and won.

"We repudiate as dangerous non-

Three Persons Injured Here Over Week-End

Three persons were hurt, only one of whom required more than temporary hospitalization, as city traffic police enjoyed one of the quietest holiday week-ends in a long time.

John Williams, Queen's hotel, is in the Royal Alexandra hospital with a fractured ankle and a head cut as a result of being knocked down by a car at 91 street and 101A avenue on Saturday evening.

Joseph G. Keeler, 11253 141 street, was driving the car that struck Williams west on 101A avenue.

Doreen Smith, 10040 163 avenue, received first aid at the General hospital for two cuts on a leg following a collision between an auto and street car at 34 street and 111 avenue.

CAR-TRAM CRASH

John L. McLaughlin, 10210 140 street, was driving his auto north on 31 street when his car collided with the right side of a street car vestibule. The accident occurred at 9 p.m. Monday. A Chrysler, 12288 81 street was over the street.

Miss Smith was a passenger in the rear seat of the auto along with John Stowe, government house garage. The latter was unhurt and Miss Smith was taken home soon after receiving first aid at the hospital.

Carol Eldridge, 7 years old, 9749 77 avenue, suffered slight injuries for which she received treatment in the University hospital, after being struck by a car at 16 avenue and 98 street at 2:40 p.m. Monday.

Joe Sirembinski, 10803 93 street, was driving west on 76 avenue when he struck the Eldridge girl who ran suddenly out on the street from a group of children in which she was playing.

The child went home as soon as she received treatment.

Police Probing Two Break-Ins

Two break-ins were being investigated by city police Tuesday.

The Norwood Service Station, 916 111 avenue, was entered late Saturday or early Sunday and $5 in change taken along with a quantity of tools. Entrance was made by breaking the glass in a basement door and lifting the latch.

The office of Dr. P. S. MacPherson, 95 street and 111 avenue, was broken into some time Monday night but nothing was taken. Police think the thief or thieves were looking for drugs.

Since the blue cry made by the CCF concerning our post-war prospects. With correct policies and measures Canada can well share in the tremendous post-war markets which will certainly be available.

The CCF must share the responsibility for coalition of progressive forces in Canada if they are not to shoulder considerable of the responsibility of precipitating Tory-dominated post-war policies."

Ask Restore Labor Temple Property Here

The Dominion government should unconditionally return to the original owners the Ukrainian Labor Temple on 36 street, according to Michael Mutz, Toronto, national cultural director of the Ukrainian Canadian Association, in speaking at a meeting Sunday night at the Memorial Hall.

The hall was taken over by the government in 1940 when the Ukrainian Labor Farmer Temple Association was declared unlawful under the Wartime Emergency Powers Act. A total of 108 halls in all parts of the country were affected.

In an address calling for restoration of the properties to original owners, Mr. Mutz said:

"Under the Act, the association was dissolved only temporarily, but was rendered totally incapable to administer its property. Thus 108 halls across Canada, together with their contents were placed in the hands of the chief custodian in Ottawa.

"For the practical purposes of administering property, the custodian in Ottawa handed the Ukrainian Labor Farmer Temple Association property to his agents across Canada. But unfortunately certain officers of the government in whose hands was placed the management of the property, totally misconsidered their function. They destroyed large quantities of valuable property and sold at the forced sale a large part of the real estate.

SOLO BELOW COST

"The best halls of the Ukrainian Canadians across Canada, mostly in large cities, were sold at ridiculously low prices to another Ukrainian group. The total value of the halls amounted to nearly $300,000. They were sold in a manner that the custodian now offers the members of the Ukrainian Labor Farmer Temple Association $25,000, or only one-eighth of the total value.

"When the equity under custodian care is reduced by 86 per cent in three years something is definitely wrong. The duty of the custodian, as his name implies, is to protect the interests of those who are barred to look after it themselves. This certainly was not practised in regard to the Ukrainian Labor Farmer Temple property.

"Your Edmonton building was erected at the cost of some $16,000. It was turned over to another group for a nominal sum of over $5,000. Of this amount, $2,500 is available to the Ukrainian Labor Farmer Temple Association. The custodian agent received some $750 commission on the sale.

"The Ukrainian Labor Farmer Temple Association as a result of public pressure was brought back to legality in October, 1942. If it were not made legal then, it would automatically come about upon the termination of hostilities, when the Wartime Emergency Powers Act ceases to function.

ONE DEMAND

"We have only one demand upon the Canadian government and that is to implement immediate restoration of the halls to the possession of original owners. In the interest of justice, harmony, goodwill and unity in every community, so imperative in time of war, we ask the Prime Minister of Canada to intervene into the delay of restoration of the Ukrainian Labor Farmer Temple Association properties to the original owners."

Finns Advancing

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 10.—(AP)—A Finnish communiqué announced today that the Finns were pressing after the Germans in the direction of Teroli on the road from Nemo in Rovaniemi.

...are you helping pave the way?

IT'S A ROAD that must be trod to the end—this road which leads to victory and the return of our loved ones.

There are milestones along the way—such immortal names as Dieppe, El Alamein, Tunis, Sicily, Ortona, Rome, the Normandy beachheads, Caen, Paris, Brussels, Le Havre, Boulogne—each one a decisive step forward along the road whose twin destinations are Berlin and Tokio.

These victories have been won by the courage and devotion of the dauntless fighting men of Canada and her allies—compared with whose sacrifices ours are but small indeed. Now on the battlefields our men are being urged to even greater efforts to bring victory quickly and decisively. At home we, too, are being urged to an even greater effort—Canada's borrowing needs have been increased by $320,000,000. Only you can raise this extra sum—every cent of which is needed to back our fighting men with a steady stream of weapons and supplies.

The struggle has reached a crucial stage—our leaders ask for a maximum and total effort. The objective in the 7th Loan is greater—our share must be greater. If we bought all the bonds we could last time—let's do the same again and then buy one more!

Keep right on to the end of the road!

EATON Buying Offices Carry On!

London

Manchester

Leicester

Belfast

Paris

ALL during the war EATON'S British buying offices in Britain have carried on through the weary weeks of blitz and subsequent months and years of strain and, latterly, the awful suspense of Robot bombing—five long years.

All during this time they have gone about their job in scouring the market for available merchandise and sending it to Canada.

Naturally, our stocks of British merchandise are limited, nevertheless Britain is still represented and well-known merchandise such as Burberry coats, etc., etc., are occasionally available.

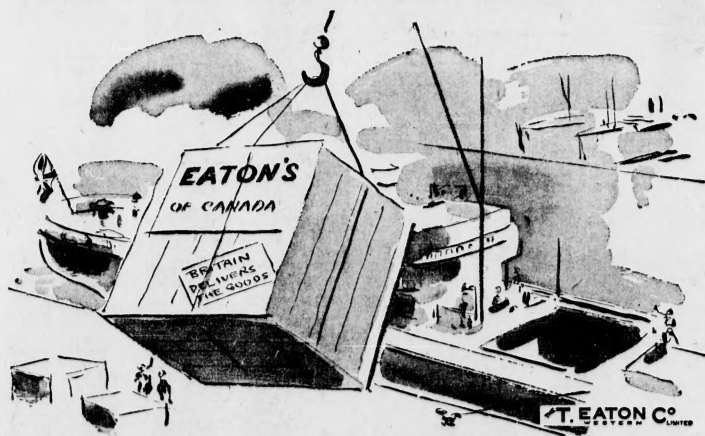

As soon as civilian travel becomes officially permissible, our buyers from Canada will again cross over the seas to work out of our existing buying offices to bring you, as before, the best available assortment of British goods.

In the meantime, we acknowledge our gratitude to the staff of our British buying offices for their fortitude during the last five years and their efforts on our and our customers' behalf... as well as for the many kindnesses extended to EATON members of the armed forces overseas.

We also rejoice in cable news that our Paris office is intact and that encouraging word of the staff gives us reason to hope that soon they will be back on the job with their frightful experiences behind them.
